AIA

Risks

Your email prospecting volume is constrained by:

- the number of domains you have set up for outreach, and

- the sending limits.

By sending too many emails, you can burn your outreach domains and end up in your prospect's spam folder because your domain will be blacklisted and reputation ruined.

Usual solution

- You pause outreach for a week or two, to let your domains 'recover'. This creates unwanted campaign downtime and pipeline dry up

- You set up new email domains to maintain healthy outreach volume but the warmup takes time and hassle with DKIM, DMARC, SPF and IMAP settings

This has to stop!

AIA for email frees you from all this, so you can focus on what matters: reaching out to more people and building a strong pipeline.

Benefits

Ready in 24 hours

AIA email accounts are pre-warmed in our pool of avatars and include domains, so you no longer have to wait 14-21 days to start emailing. You can begin email outreach in just 24 hours.

Human realistic profiles

Each AIA has a uniquely generated true-to-life profile image, and comes with between 100-500 professional contacts in their LinkedIn network. AIA also have a believable work history at a US Fortune 1000, plus attendance at a reputable top 100 US university.

Drastically reduce admin

Totally eliminate the nightmare of domain-related admin. Forget about DKIM, DMARC, SPF, IMAP and all the other deliverability technicalities. Focus on what actually matters: sending emails to prospects.

Safe and secure

Outsourcing your domain setup? Then you're also outsourcing access to your domains. Stop relying on 2FA or 1PW workarounds and take back full control of your outbound email accounts.

Easily manage a large team of avatars

Need to run higher volume email campaigns? Your marketing lead can quickly add extra AIA accounts without having to be an expert in domain set up.

No lock in

AIA for email gives you total flexibility. There's no need to buy domains for a year. Rent as many, or as few email avatars as your business needs. Then stop using them whenever you want with no contract or lock-in.
